<p&gt;The E (Eastern) postcode area, also known as the London E postcode area
,[2] 😊 is the part of the London post town covering much of east London

<p&gt;The current E postcode area &#128522; was originally formed in 1866 as a merger of the E and NE areas, which had been created in 1858. 😊 In 1 917, the postal districts were numbered alphabetically by their most important p arish, chapelry, topographical or built environment feature.[3] As 😊 of 2004, the district names do not form part of the postal address.[2] High demand caused sector 9 of the 😊 E1 postcode district to be split and recoded in 1999 to create an E1W postcode district around Wapping,[4] but the 😊 rest of the district did not gain an additional character. When districts are u sed for purposes other than the sorting 😊 of mail, such as use as a geo graphic reference and on street signs, E1 and E1W continue to be commonly &#1285 22; classed as one 'district'. The E postcode area contains two non-geo graphic postcode districts for high-volume business users, E77 and E98.[5]</p <p&gt;The &#128522; Eastern District Office is on Whitechapel Road and was t he eastern terminus for the former London Post Office Railway, which 😊 has been mothballed since 2003. The railway ran 10.5 kilometres (6.5 mi) to the Paddington Head District Sorting Office.</p&gt; <p&gt;The E20 &#128522; postcode has been used fictionally in television soa p-opera EastEnders since 1985. It has been a real postcode since 2011 carved &#1 28522; from and only bordered by the E15 postcode, its buildings marketed as an d often self-identifying as Olympic Park and Queen 😊 Elizabeth Park. It includes landmark sports venues built for the 2012 Summer Olympics.[6]</p&gt
